SERIES: 19957 3
TITLE: Census of the United States (1870). Mortality. Utah

DATES: s 1870.
ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by county. For the complete census of the nation, they were arranged first alphabetically by state,
DESCRIPTION:

These sheets are the mortality schedules (schedule 2) from the 1870 federal census for Utah. For each county they show those who have died during the year ending 1 June 1870. Columns record the number of the family as given in schedule 1, name of deceased, age, sex, color [race], marital status, place of birth, parentage [mother or father foreign born], month of death, occupation, and cause of death. The information was recorded and certified by assistant marshals; the information was required to be submitted by the territorial marshal to the US Department of the Interior.

SERIES: 26682 1
TITLE: Census of the United States (1880). Agriculture. Utah
DATES: 1880.
ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by county name.
DESCRIPTION:

The tenth census of the United States was conducted in June 1880 by the Department of Interior Census Office. Five schedules were authorized by the 1880 census act. The Agricultural census statistics were obtained within each state or territory through the personal visitation of each farm by an authorized enumerator of population within a given county, city or precinct. Information collected gauges the overall picture of agriculture in the Territory of Utah by county and includes: name of person who conducts the farm; number and size of farms and farm values; farm tenure; fence building and repair; hired labor; grass lands; number and type of livestock; cereal, fiber, and sugar production; orchards; vineyards; and forest products.

SERIES: 8566 3
TITLE: Census of the United States (1880). Population. Utah
DATES: s 1880.
ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by county name.
DESCRIPTION:

These are the population schedules for Utah from the tenth United States census used to determine congressional representation and gather statistical information on the populace. Under the census act of 1880, census data was collected by specially appointed agents of the Census Office, then a temporary office within the U.S. Department of the Interior. Columns in the schedule record the dwelling house numbered in order of visitation; name of each person whose place of abode on June 1, 1880 was in this family; personal description, specifically color [race], sex, and age; civil condition [marital status]; occupation; health,specifically blind, deaf and dumb, idiotic, insane, maimed/crippled/bedridden, or otherwise; education, specifically attended school, cannot read, cannot write; and nativity, specifically place [state or country] of birth for self, father, and mother. Marginal notations, not specifically asked for in the census include M for Mormon [member Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints], D for disfellowshipped, G for gentile [non-Mormon], J for Josephite [member of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints], and AM for anti-Mormon.
