DATES: 1975-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological by meeting date with all relevant attachments filed after the minutes for each meeting.

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 0.30 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

The Brian Head town council is responsible for exercising the community's legislative and executive powers (see Utah Code Unannotated, 1992, 10-3-101). At incorporation (1975) the town board consisted of a mayor and four council members who were responsible for all aspects of town management. In 1988 Brian Head officially replaced the traditional town government with the manager/council form of government. Since that date the traditional town council shares responsibilities with a town manager, who is officially included as a member of the council. Brian Head town council minutes summarize the discussion at council meetings and report on motions made and actions taken. Since incorporation, the Brian Head town council's primary objective has been to build and maintain a regional resort community which is comfortable and aesthetically attractive. In keeping with this goal, the council has been progressive about providing public services and utilities. The council has also focused on overseeing development and land use, advertising the resort, and providing recreational opportunities for guests and residents. The town council has worked closely auxiliary municipal boards and commissions and with the Utah Travel Council and Brian Head Resort, Inc.

TITLE: General plan

DATES: 2013-

ARRANGEMENT: none

DESCRIPTION:

These are comprehensive plans for municipal development adopted by the city commission. "Each municipality shall prepare and adopt a comprehensive, long-range general plan for present and future needs of the municipality; and growth and development of all or any part of the land within the municipality" (Utah Code 10-9a-401(1) (2005)). "The planning commission shall make and recommend to the [city commission] a proposed general plan for the area within the municipality" (Utah Code 10-9a-403(1)(b) (2012)). The plans serve as a guide for decision-making on rezoning and other planning proposals and as the goals and policies of municipalities attempting to guide land use in local jurisdictions. The plans include "planning commission's recommendations for the development of the territory covered by the plan, and may include, among other things: (a) a land use element; (b) a transportation and circulation element; (c) an environmental element; (d) a public service and facilities element; (e) a rehabilitation, redevelopment, and conservation element; (f) an economic element; (g) recommendations for implementing the plan, including the use of zoning ordinances, subdivision ordinances, capital improvement plans, and other appropriate actions; and any other elements that the municipality c a rehabilitation, redevelopment, and conservation element; (f) an economic element; (g) recommendations for implementing the plan, including the use of zoning ordinances, subdivision ordinances, capital improvement plans, and other appropriate actions; and any other elements that the municipality considers appropriate" (Utah Code 10-91-403 (3) (2012)). The plan may also include maps, plats, and charts.

TITLE: Planning Commission minutes

DATES: 1977-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological by meeting date with relevant attachments filed after the minutes for each meeting.

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 0.10 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

Utah law provides each municipal government with the opportunity to appoint a planning commission to create and carry out zoning plans within the community (Utah Code Annotated, 1953, 10-9-4). The Brian Head town council created a planning commission in 1977. The five-member commission works closely with the council on all issues relating to land use and development, and in creating and revising the town's master plan. All development proposals in Brian Head must be conceptually approved by both the planning commission and the town council before developers can proceed with building details, water connection, and review by engineers and other necessary inspectors. Final proposals must be re-approved by both the planning commission and town council. The commission's primary function is evaluating development proposals. The commission provides time for public hearings on proposals and for evaluating potential conflicts of interest between board members and proposed projects. Planning commission minutes provide a summary of the planning commission's discussion as well as the names of those present.
