Previous decision: 77-54: 5 year/public. According to UCA 70A-9-403, a financing statement is good for five years, but it may be continued indefinitely. As a result, no specific retention can be given because, according to the Uniform Commercial Code, the financing statement must be on file as long as it is effective. Section 70A-9-403(4) of the UCA permits microfilming of the document for public inspection. This is recommended both to save space and to provide for a security copy of the financing statement.

TITLE: Incorporation case files

DATES: 1871-

ARRANGEMENT: Numerical by case file number.

DESCRIPTION:

Incorporation Case Files contain at a minimum the original articles of incorporation and any subsequent amendments to corporations. Some files also contain notices to pay licensing fees and taxes, oaths of office for corporate officers, annual reports, correspondence, dissolution certificates, or other miscellaneous documents. Case files are created during the length of a corporation's duration existence to form a business into an association with the legal rights and liabilities of an individual.

Articles of incorporation constitute a contract between the state and corporation, between corporation and stockholders, and between the stockholders and state. The articles of incorporation record the following: names of the incorporators and their places of residence, the length of the corporation's duration, the pursuit of business agreed upon, amount of stock each shareholder receives, description of stock classes, number and kind of corporate officers, and the number of directors necessary to transact corporate business.

Prior to 1962, corporations were required by law to file articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State and the County Clerks. Effective January 1, 1962, the law changed and the Secretary of State became the sole agency responsible for corporation records in the state (Laws of Utah, 1961, Chapter 28). In 1974, a notice was sent out to all corporations requesting their current status. Corporations that were no longer in existence were officially dissolved by the Secretary of State. In 1984, the Division of Corporations and Commercial Code was created to assume duties and responsibilities pertaining to corporations that were previously delegated to the Secretary of State (Laws of Utah, 1984, Chapter 66).

UCA 16-10-13(3) requires the division to keep a record of all processes, notices and demands served upon it. The code does not specify how long the record is to be kept or why. Discussion with the staff shows that they have no reference to the file after a year. However, due to the specific code reference, the potential legal consequences of the record, and the relatively small volume, a five year retention is recommended.

TITLE: Summons and complaints

DATES: 1976-

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by defendant name

DESCRIPTION:

These are summons and complaints served on the department by the court when the corporate registered agent cannot be located, or when a corporation has no registered agent listed. According to UCA 16-10-13(2), the department may be served with the summons. The department must forward the summons by registered mail to the corporation. The significance of this record is to show that all efforts were made to serve the defendant. If the defendant fails to appear in a court, a judgement is entered against him. The defendant has three months after judgement was entered to show he was not served a summons and have it overturned.

The information includes the names of the plaintiff and defendant, the court of jurisdiction, the case number, the name and address of the plaintiff's attorney, the terms and the date of summons, the reason for the complaint, the date of the summons, and the date the summons was served at the Department of Business Regulations.
