TITLE: Conviction and citation records

DATES: 1981-

ARRANGEMENT: Numerical by driver license numbers

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 0.50 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These records are maintained to have a documentary record of traffic violations by Utah licensed drivers. Included are traffic citations, court dockets, and court abstracts, which are filed together.

Citations contain case and citation numbers; name, signature, address, phone number, place and date of birth, social security number, height and weight, race sex, hair and eye color of defendant; drivers license and vehicle license numbers and states; vehicle description, including color, year, make, type, and model; charges against defendant, including state, county, or city code citation; location, date, and time of alleged offense; speed and speed limit; signature and badge number of officer; address where defendant is to appear; date of conviction; sentence, including fines and jail time, and suspension of sentences; plea/finding; severity of offense; and signature of court clerk.

Court dockets provide a detailed chronology of court action of specific traffic violation cases. The record generally contains name and address of the defendant, citation and case numbers, name of court exercising jurisdiction, date of alleged violation, fees and fines assessed, bail set or posted, and details of court actions, including issuance of arrest warrants and failure to appear/comply notices.

The abstract conviction form provides for the following information, some of which may not always be present: name, address, and date of birth of defendant; drivers license number; name, address, phone number, and county of court exercising jurisdiction; citation and case numbers; violation, plea, arraignment, trial, and judgment dates; miles over the limit; sentence, including fines, jail time, probation, community service, victim restitution, and suspensions of sentence.

TITLE: Court judgment records

DATES: 1977-

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by driver surname

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 3.00 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These records provide a documentary account of court actions concerning Utah drivers who fail to abide by judgments rendered against them in litigation following an accident. Information includes copies of accident reports, including names, addresses, license numbers, age, sex, years of driving experience of the driver, whether or not insurance coverage was evident to the officer, description of involved cars (including make, model, color, and year), officer's account of what happened, arrests made, disposition of vehicles, damage estimates, injuries, and date, time, and location of accident; transcripts of civil proceedings, including judgments (showing names of plaintiff and defendant), judgment amount and terms, court exercising jurisdiction, and the presiding judge's signature; a notice that the driver's driving privilege has been suspended in the state in which the accident occurred for failure to adhere to the terms of the judgment (which includes driver name and date of birth, date and location of accident, court in which judgment was rendered, effective date of suspension, and terms of suspension); judgments rendered outside of Utah include a copy of the cover letter from the licensing authority in the other state indicating that a suspension has been ordered within that state for a Utah licensed driver. When a judgment is satisfied, the file will then also contain a copy of the letter sent by the Drivers License Division to inform the person that he is now eligible to reinstate his drivers license under certain conditions, such as the payment of a reinstatement fee and the provision of proof of insurance.

TITLE: Drivers license and identification card applications

DATES: i 1950-

ARRANGEMENT: Numerical by batch number.

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 332.00 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These records document the applications and issuances of a Utah drivers license or identification card. The records are comprised of Drivers License Division applications and a camera card copy of the drivers license or identification card without the photograph. The written application includes the name, resident address, mailing address, weight, eye and hair color, and date of birth of applicant; questions about the person's drivers license history and medical history; department notations concerning type of license issued, restrictions, tests required, identification shown, and fees paid; sworn affidavit that the person signing the application is the person described in the application; applications for minors under 18 also contain an assumption of liability agreement signed by a legal guardian; test results; and list of restriction and endorsement codes. The drivers license card includes the name, address, weight, birth date, height, sex, eye and hair color, Social Security number, and signature of the licensee; dates of issue and expiration; whether or not the licensee is an organ donor; license number and class; and fees paid. When the applicant is applying for his first Utah drivers license, a copy of the license from another state or the Utah Driver Training Certificate is also included in this file. Beginning in 1991, the record series also includes applications for identification cards. The same application is used for these cards and drivers licenses. The identification camera card shows the place of birth in place of restrictions and endorsements.

TITLE: Drivers license correspondence files

DATES: 1970-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological, thereunder alphabetical by surname

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 200.00 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These correspondence records document various actions taken by Drivers License regarding citizens whose driving privileges are in question. Some of the information might be in regards to an individual contesting an administrative action, and some could determine medical qualifications that needed to be addressed before receiving a driver's license. The records also may include letters of suspension issued to individuals restricting their use of any automobile due to unpaid tickets or lack of insurance; notification of suspension, revocation, denial, or disqualification of an individual's driving privileges in regards to a violation or infraction; citations given to drivers operating vehicles under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs which would also include the officer's report; and any records showing that individuals have insurance.

The preceding could include types of chemical tests administered and the results; evidence obtained during search; types of medication; agency issuing citation; peace officer's signature; probable cause statement; statements of arrested person(s); Utah Code citation; name of individual; effective date of action; conditions of suspensions; legal ramifications of suspension; mental, physical and emotional health; driver's license number; signature; profile categories (various diseases); health profile definitions; profile results; hearing issues and actions; insurance company name and inclusive date; type of vehicle; and person's address.

TITLE: Renewal applications

DATES: 1980-

ARRANGEMENT: Numerical by batch number

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 8.00 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

This is a renewal application or extension of an existing drivers license. Each renewal period is five years. Some records are received through the Renewal by Mail program. They consist of three documents: a renewal card, an instruction card, and a medical questionnaire. The renewal card includes the name, address, and license number of the driver; a certification that all information is correct on the card and other included documents; dated signature of applicant; and amount of fee required to be paid for the renewal. The instruction card contains instructions on completing the other forms. It also has a section required to be filled out for drivers over the age of 65. This section is provided for the applicant to obtain an eye examination from a personal doctor rather than at the drivers license station. The form shows the name, date of birth, class of license, and drivers license number of the applicant; applicant's signature; examiner's signature; date of examination; examiner's comments; visual acuity; medical profile level; and contact person. The medical questionnaire shows the name, date of birth, and license number of the applicant, and information about various health problems which may interfere with driving.
