TITLE: Declarations of intention record books

DATES: i 1906-

ARRANGEMENT: Entries are arranged numerically by case number within consecutively numbered volumes.

DESCRIPTION:

These volumes record the intent for Weber County residents to become United States citizens. A declaration of intention preceded a petition to become a citizen by two or more years. The forms contain blanks for: state; county; court; name, age, occupation, and description of applicant; place and date of birth; current residence; information on immigration (name of vessel, port arrived, date of arrival); and last foreign residence and name and title of ruler to whom he would be renouncing allegiance. By 1916, additional blanks were added to record marital status, and if married, wife's name, birthplace, and birth date. The applicant took an oath to express intention to become a permanent U.S. citizen and make the country his permanent residence. Space was provided for his signature and that of the court clerks.

TITLE: Minutes

DATES: i 1896-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological by court date.

DESCRIPTION:

This series is made up of minute books which record the official acts and proceedings of the Second District Court while sitting in Ogden, Weber County, Utah. These records were created and maintained by the court clerk, who is required by state statute to keep a minute book (Utah Code Annotated, 1953, 17-20-2).

The minutes are a daily record of documents filed and actions taken with regard to every matter brought before each session of the court, largely regarding documents submitted, appearances before the court, and orders issued. The minutes encompass both criminal and civil cases, including probate matters such as estates, guardianship, and adoption. Petitions for divorce are a predominant type of civil action. Others include naturalization, voluntary withdrawal or dissolution of corporations, and petitions for a writ of habeas corpus. Criminal matters may involve larceny, trespass, burglary, robbery, assault, battery, rape, prostitution, sodomy, child abuse, gambling, narcotics, riot, perjury, or murder.

APPRAISAL:

These records have administrative, historical, and/or legal value(s).

Disposition based on the historical value of the minute books as documentation about individuals, legal procedure, court history and functions. Minute books have legal and administrative value to the court through dismissal or satisfaction of the final judgment. Because they enforce or protect private rights and prevent or redress private wrongs, the value of the judge's decrees and final judgments to parties in any action may extend well into the future.

RETENTION JUSTIFICATION:

The historical, administrative, and legal value of the minutes provide documentation about individuals, legal procedure, court history and functions, and other topics useful to legal researchers and historians. The permanent retention should be retained.

DESCRIPTION:

These volumes contain documentation of the final steps of becoming a United States citizen. They include petitions for naturalization, certificates of citizenship and accompanying documentation.

The first volume contains only certificates of citizenship giving date, applicant's name, former country and kingdom, current county of residence, and a standardized statement that the applicant had produced the necessary evidence and taken the required oaths. The judge then signed the certificate.

The 1904-1906 volume of preprinted application forms consisted of an applicant's affidavit and witness affidavits, as well as a certificate of citizenship. The applicant's affidavit gave his name; current address; occupation; birthplace, birth date and age; port, vessel, and date of arrival; other U.S. residences; date and place of declaration of intention; and any U.S. military service. The affidavit included an oath of renunciation of allegiance to his former sovereign and a statement of character. Witness affidavits confirmed the applicant's statements and declared his worthiness to become a citizen. The court's order admitting the applicant as a citizen was included and a copy of the certificate of citizenship was recorded. Blanks are provided for the signatures of the individual, witnesses, judge, and court clerks.

After 1906, courts used federally provided record books from the Bureau of Naturalization. Petitions for naturalization include the individual's name, residence, occupation, birth date and birthplace; the place from which he emigrated, date and port of arrival, and vessel name; date and court of declaration of intention; spouse's name, birthplace, and residence; children's names, birthdates, birthplaces, and residences; and any previous petitions filed. Also included were the affidavits of two witnesses, the oath of allegiance, and court order admitting the person to citizenship. Later space was added for memoranda of continuances, denial of petition if applicable, etc.

Various corroborating documents may also be included: declarations of intention, certificates of military service, certificates of arrival, witness depositions, occasional correspondence, and even court orders revoking citizenship.

TITLE: Probate case files

DATES: 1851-

ARRANGEMENT: Numerical by case number.

DESCRIPTION:

Probate case files are a collection of all documents and actions filed with the court clerk in the course of probating wills of deceased persons. Included are guardianships, adoptions (until 1924), and commitments (until 1920). Records and documents pertaining to a particular action are filed together by the court clerk, who is required by the Rules of Civil Procedure to file pleadings and other legal papers. Collectively they constitute the case file. Case numbers are assigned by the court when papers are initially filed with the clerk.

Files for probate cases include such documents as wills, decrees, continuations of hearings, discharges, petitions, notices, bonds, letters testamentary, testimonies, findings of fact and conclusions of law, commitments, affidavits, proof of publication, appraisements, reports, orders, depositions, property inventories, etc.
