TITLE: Land Development project planning records

DATES: 1995-

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by project name.

DESCRIPTION:

The Development Group manages approximately 1% of the lands managed by the Trust, in accordance with Utah Code 53C-1-302 (2011). These 100 tracts have higher potential surface values to the trust beneficiaries. The Development Group applies real estate development, land planning, land conservation, and legal and finance disciplines in its management of these special properties, as detailed in Utah Administrative Code R850-140 (2020). The Development Group works with the private sector, governmental groups and other interested parties on the tracts of land they manage.

The records in this series document the planning stage of the development process, prior to the development transaction. The full development process includes a planning stage, then one (or more) development transactions and supporting transactions. These records document the planning stage.

Records and information may include project planning records, copies of surveys, contracts, applications, financial documents, copies of maps and photos, purchasing transactions, RFPs (requests for proposal), and related correspondence. Records are organized by project, where a project is defined as a tract of land which will be developed as a unit throughout the development process.

APPRAISAL:

These records have administrative, historical, and/or legal value(s).

These records are historical because the agency is the official record keeper of land ownership, sale, purchase, exchange, transfer, or use for all lands conveyed to the state of Utah by the federal government at statehood. This land ownership and usage provides evidence of effects of governmental programs and actions on individuals, communities, and the environment.

RETENTION JUSTIFICATION:

SITLA has extended administrative need for these records, and still refers back to previous case files after many years. SITLA has identified this retention as representative of their needs. -RMW

TITLE: Selected lands purchase agreement files

DATES: 1899-

ARRANGEMENT: Numerical by case file number.

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 3.00 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These are contracts between individuals and the State Board of Land Commissioners to purchase selected lands granted to the state by the federal government. These records continued to be created by succeeding agencies: the State Land Board, the Department of Natural Resources Division of State Lands and Division of State Lands and Forestry, and then the School and Institutional Trust Lands Administration. The Enabling Act, which authorized Utah statehood also granted to the state specified numbers of acres of land to support a variety of public institutions (Statutes at Large, Treaties, and Proclamations of the United States, vol. 28, chap. 188). These lands were to be sold and the money put in a permanent fund which would generate interest to support the specified institution. Granted land had to be selected by the state, approved by the federal government and then patented to the state. Each purchase agreement states that a certain named individual is making application to the agency for the selection of specifically described land. The person swears that he/she is a citizen of the United States and agrees to purchase the said land at a certain price once the lands have been selected by the State of Utah and a federal patent has been issued. The agreements specify the amount that will be paid for the land, the terms of payment, the amount of deposit, and verify that the land is not mineral in character. Information included in the agreements are the dates when the agreement was filed, when the land was selected and filed with the Salt Lake Land Office and when the selection was approved by the federal government. Other documents in each file may include correspondence between the agency and the prospective purchaser, correspondence between the agency and the United States Bureau of Land Management (BLM), maps, state selection lists, court documents if the land title was in dispute, copies of deeds or certificates of sale, and affidavits showing proof of publication notifying others that the agreement has been filed. If the purchaser does not verify native-born United States citizenship, the file will also contain documents proving naturalized citizenship. These records are critical to the agency's central function, and therefore must be accessible throughout the agency's existence.

APPRAISAL:

These records have administrative, and/or historical value(s).
These records document the permitting and leasing of timber land in Utah since 1896. This is the only known record of this information in the state. A register exists which contains some of the information in these records but it did not begin until August 1906 (See RS #84388). Current records of this series are still being used by the Division of State Lands and Forestry.
