TITLE: Annual fluid injection report

DATES: 1983-

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by operator

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 0.30 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

This is an annual report of the well injections as required by 40 CFR 144.28. It is used by the division to review the activities at the wells to identify any problem areas. Information includes the purpose of the fluid injection, the section, township, range, county, pool name, formation name, authorizing order number, order date, nature of injection fluid, daily average injection, average well head injection pressure, disposal means, and report of well testing or repair performed.

RETENTION:

Retain permanently

DISPOSITION:

May Transfer to Archives.

RETENTION AND DISPOSITION AUTHORIZATION:

These records are in Archives' permanent custody.

APPROVED: 07/1987

FORMAT MANAGEMENT:

Paper: Retain in Office permanently.

APPRAISAL:

These records have administrative, and/or historical value(s). The record should be kept permanently to provide a permanent record of the underground injection wells in the state, and the injection activities in those wells. A three year retention is to allow for potential audit action.

SERIES: 7452

3

TITLE: Audit work papers

DATES: 1985-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological, thereunder alphabetical by company name.

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 2.00 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These records contain unique information in rough notes or drafts assembled or created and used to prepare or analyze other documents. The information adds proper understanding to the formulation and execution of policies, decisions, actions, or responsibilities.

RETENTION:

Retain for 1 year(s)

DISPOSITION:

TITLE: Compliance case files

DATES: 1990-

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by operator name

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 0.50 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These records document oil or gas operators' compliance as identified by state inspectors when they perform well and facility inspections. Upon notification, operators assume responsibility for responding to and resolving problems. Lack of response may lead to further legal action.

The file may contain an inspector's report, a notice of violation, phone documentation, and correspondence between the agency and an operator. The records also document the enforcement actions taken by the Division of Oil, Gas, and Mining when a well or facility operator does not respond to an order for compliance and corrective actions taken by operators.

RETENTION:

Permanent. Retain until administrative need ends

DISPOSITION:

DATES: 1990-

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by operator.

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 0.50 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

This form documents operators' efforts to enhance production of lower value wells. In so doing, the operators complete the first step in qualifying for a tax credit administered through the Division of Oil, Gas, and Mining, under authority of the State Tax Commission (UCA 59-5-102) (2004). The form lists operator and well information, type of work commenced and completed, operating expenses and division approved expenses, a list of contractors providing services, in-kind services, and the name, signature, and title of the operator.

These records have administrative, fiscal, historical, and/or legal value(s).

This record is of long term value and should be preserved.

Although the record is microfilmed, a permanent retention for the paper copy is also recommended. Due to the nature of the record, there are times when the microfilm copy is difficult to read or cannot show scale properly. In those instances, the paper copy must be consulted. However, as the microfilm is sufficient for most reference purposes, the paper copy can be stored off-site.

TITLE: Wells Records Program electric logs

DATES: 1965-

ARRANGEMENT: Numerical by American Petroleum Institute number.

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 20.00 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These logs document the measurement and analysis of holes drilled for mining purposes. The information is gathered in a process called "logging" by using electricity to measure the depth and height of well, mineral content of soil, fluid content, and other information. The logs, computer generated on-site, are performed by a logging company, not the drilling company. They include well number, name, and location, name of operator, depth, height, date log was run, type of well (oil, gas, etc.), kind of log test (there are from 12-15 types), field location (geographic), type of fluid present, percentage of salinity (salt content), maximum recorded temperature, depth to which equipment went, size of drill bit, logging speed, casing and tubing information, service order number, tool numbers, remark section information, estimated cement top information, strength of piping, interpretation (test results), and other technical data.

APPRAISAL:

These records have administrative, and/or historical value(s).
These records should be maintained for administrative and historical purposes. The records contain an extensive amount of information on all the wells drilled in the state. The paper needs to be maintained permanently because the scale is disrupted slightly by filming. This renders the film unusable when absolute accuracy is required. The film is usable for most research purposes.
