TITLE: Career Ladder Program administration records

DATES: 1984-2015.

ARRANGEMENT: Alphabetical by district, thereunder chronological.

DESCRIPTION:

Established by the Utah State Legislature, the Career Ladder Program provides funds to districts, allocated by the number of students in the district, through which teachers can receive additional compensation for various kinds of professional development activities and additional professional assignments. These records comprise the plans created by the districts (with supporting documentation), according to which districts suballocate funds for acceptable uses, and correspondence. The records created in administering the Career Ladder Program include lists of Career Ladder Review Committee (CLRC) membership; correspondence; accounting forms, both for expenditures of the CLRC and disbursement of funds to districts; consent calendars submitted to the State Board of Education for its approval; approval letters sent to districts; and abstracts of approved district plans. Also included are the records created in planning and conducting the annual Career Ladder conference for school districts, such as correspondence, conference programs and other conference materials, and accounting forms. In the case of certain districts, which received single or multiyear waivers or participated in the block grant pilot program, the only records for certain years may be correspondence, and the only documentation of plans will be records from a previous year.

TITLE: Experimental and developmental education grant files

DATES: 1993-2015.

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological by fiscal year, thereunder alphabetical by school district name

DESCRIPTION:

These records document funds applied for and received by school districts to be used toward experimental education projects. They include applications, correspondence, and mid-year and final reports. The information includes the district name, title, amount approved, distribution of funds among the school districts in Utah, abstracts of the projects, project director, proposed funding source, budget, narrative summaries of the project, conformity with program rules, statement of need, basis of evaluation and evaluator, objectives, and costs by category. The final reports include how the project did or did not meet its objectives and time schedule, summary of evaluation information, potential for statewide or district-wide use of the program, narrative outline of project to date, plans for continuation, and financial reports. In 1991, the State Legislature merged several previously existing grant programs into the Experimental and Developmental Education Program. This program replaced the following: Outcome Based Education, Productivity, Technology, and Promoting Excellence and Efficiency in the Public Schools. This program was administered by Project Assistance Services until 1993 when it was transferred to Curriculum.

TITLE: National Diffusion Network (NDN) grants to Utah

DATES: 1978-2015.

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological by year of grant request.

DESCRIPTION:

The U. S. Dept. of Education (USDE) is responsible for the National Diffusion Network (NDN), a program to provide funds to allow the implementation of proven educational techniques by local school districts and schools. The NDN actually consists of numerous specific programs for educational improvement. Money originally flows in the form of a block grant from the USDE to the Utah State Office of Education (USOE). Then, individual school districts apply to USOE for funds to use them in particular schools for specified projects.

This series includes applications for federal assistance, a budget for the federally appropriated funds, and correspondence between USOE and USDE. A major grant request, including an extensive report on the proposed use of the funds and the needs which exist in Utah, is filed every five years. In the intervening years, a smaller formal request for funds is filed. The major and annual requests for funds are included in this record series. These records are maintained in a three-ring binder while held in the office. This series was the responsibility of Project Assistance Services until 1993, when Curriculum assumed responsibility for NDN.

DOCUMENT TYPE(S):

Applications, budget, correspondence, reports

FUNCTION(S):

Provide funds to implement proven educational techniques in schools, thereby improving education.

SUBJECT(S):

National Diffusion Network programs, grant request information, and proposed use of funds.

SERIES HISTORY:

Utah State Office of Education (USOE) asks for block grants from U.S. Dept. of Education, then schools receive funds from USOE. Annual requests are filed by USOE for funds, but a major grant request is also filed every five years. This series was generated by Project Assistance Services until 1993, when Curriculum assumed the responsibility.
