TITLE: Articles of incorporation record books

DATES: 1871-1961

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological

DESCRIPTION:

These volumes record copies of Articles of Incorporation filed with the Millard County Clerk by newly organized corporations. The registers were kept as the official copy which was available for public use. The actual articles of incorporation record the following: names of the incorporators and their places of residence, the length of the corporation's duration, the pursuit of business agreed upon, amount of stock each shareholder receives, description of stock classes, number and kind of corporate officers, and the number of directors necessary to transact corporate business.

Under Utah law, individuals desiring to incorporate were to file and record articles of incorporation with their respective county clerk. These agreements specified the nature and place of business, amount of stock to be issued, terms for officers, etc. The clerk in turn issued a certificate of incorporation and recorded the final articles of incorporation in these record books. The series ended in 1961 when the Division of Corporations was created and the state assumed sole responsibility for registering incorporations.

TITLE: Birth registers

DATES: i 1905-1934.

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological.

DESCRIPTION:

These registers contain duplicate copies of birth certificates for births occurring in Millard County, Utah. There are twelve volumes--nine from the Hinckley District (1906-34) and three from the Scipio District (1905-32). Each certificate contains the name of the county; the name of the precinct or town; the full name of the newborn child; the sex of the child; multiple birth and birth order information; legitimate birth; date of birth; parents' names, residence, color (race), age, occupation, and birthplace; total number of children born to the mother, including present birth; and number of children of this mother now living. At the bottom of the birth certificate is a Certificate of Attending Physician or Midwife, which includes the signature of the attending physician or midwife affirming that the birth occurred on the date indicated. Also placed inside some registers are copies of a certificate entitled, "Supplemental Report of Birth, State of Utah." This form allowed people to provide additional information that was not available when the birth was initially registered--i.e., the inclusion of the name of a child (when the parents had not yet selected a name by the filing deadline). Personal information is classified as private for 75 years.

TITLE: Bounty records

DATES: i 1913-1930; 1943-1945.

ARRANGEMENT: Numerical by certificate number, thereunder chronological
DESCRIPTION:

These two volumes document the payment of county and state bounties for the killing of various predatory and other wild animal pests.

The first volume (1913-30) contains the certificate number, the date issued, to whom issued, address, the fund (county or state), the total amount paid, a column listing the predator (bear, mountain lion, cougar, grey wolf, coyote, lynx, wild cat, bobcat, or timber wolf), number, and the number collected, and the name of the person signing the corroborative affidavit of the claimant. The clerk keeping this record also noted when a warrant was not paid by the state on account of fraud. Carbon copies of reports to the State Auditor listing the number of the individual species killed, the amount of the bounty due on each species, and the total amount due, and the signature of the county clerk. The most common bounty claim was for coyotes.

A ten-page record (pp. 50-59) of bounties paid for jackrabbits, gophers, ground squirrels, and prairie dogs over a three-year span (1917-19) is also found in this volume. The most common claim was for rabbits. (Later rabbit bounty claims [1921-24] are recorded in SERIES NUMBER 83725, which consists of redeemed warrants for rabbit scalps with ears attached.) The second volume (1943-45) is arranged chronologically and contains the date, hunter's name, address, certificate affidavit numbers (clerk's, claimant's, inspector's, and central board's), the number of each species and amount of bounty paid per animal, the number of each species killed, the amount of the bounty paid per animal (coyote, lynx, wolf, and cougar), and the total bounty paid. The most common bounty claim was for coyotes. Only nine pages of the second volume have been completed.

DESCRIPTION:

This volume is a register of certificates issued for 103 purebred bulls ranged in Millard County. By law, only purebred bulls of some "recognized breed of beef cattle" could be ranged on public lands in Utah (see "Laws of Utah, 1915," chapter 52). Until amended by the state legislature in 1945 ("Laws of Utah, 1945," chapter 3), the law required county clerks to register certificates from breeding associations for purebred bulls ranged within their county.

The register contains an item number, the name of the bull, the bull's registration number, the name of the bull's sire, the sire's registration number, the name of the dam, the dam's registration number, the date dropped, the date registered, a description of the bull's markings, the name of the bull's breeder, the breed, the name of owner, the owner's address, and the amount paid.
